In the morning time after breakfast we will proceed for Kalapathar Beach.

Kalapathar Beach: - This beach is also one of the best attractions of Havelock Island with a collaboration of sandy and rocky sea view. Kala Pathar Beach is a small but charming beach in Havelock Island. This stunning beach has golden sand beds and turquoise blue water. The beach lies next to the village of Kala Pathar. Hence it derives its name from the beach. You will be impressed by the stunning scenic beauty of the beach. You can spend a great time at the beach. Strolling at the beach would be fun. You will feel the cool breeze tingling through your hair. Walking on the soft sand and observing the landscapes of the Kala Pathar is another leisure activity. The beach is less crowded making it the best place for those who love peace and tranquility.

Then after lunch we will proceed to Radhanagar Beach.

Radhanagar Beach: - The best and famous beach of Andaman Islands. Radhanagar Beach is without a doubt the most famous beach in the Andaman Islands. Crowned as "Asia's Best Beach" and "7th best beach in the world" by Time Magazine, this place sees a lot of tourists. It truly is an unforgettable curve of white sand with perfectly colored blue waters, all lined by lush forest and palm trees.

Then we will return back to Hotel & Overnight Stay at Havelock.

Day 3 Havelock island to Elephanta Beach: -

In the morning time after breakfast we will proceed for Elephanta beach. It is one of the most distinctive beaches in the Andaman Islands. This stunning beach is situated in Havelock Island and it is the most visited beach in the Andaman Archipelago. Once upon a time, there were elephants on the islands they were spotted roaming around on the shores of the beach that is how the beach got its name but now there are no elephants that can be seen around the beach.

Surrounded by coconut and palm trees and sugary white sands the blue water beach attracts tourists in a large number annually. Elephant beach at Havelock Island is a neat and serene area with amazing views. The emerald green trees shed plenty of shadows where you can get shelter from the sun, you will find uprooted trees lying on the shore, these are the remains of the tsunami that hit the island in 2004. The beach is very famous for the variety of untouched corals and a rich marine life with diverse species. This beach is an ideal destination for water sports and for leisure tour. You will be in a world apart when on this beach located in Havelock Islands. Its rich coral reef structure and amazing underwater marine life will certainly spellbound you and want you to keep coming back for more. This place is ideal for relaxing spending a leisure time with food and drinks. Besides, if you feel like doing some fun activities this beach offers water sports like diving, snorkeling, swimming, bird-watching, trekking and kayaking (additional cost involved) . Spend your quality time at Elephanta beach and return back to Hotel. Overnight Stay at Havelock.

Day 4 Havelock Island to Vijaynagar Beach & Nemo Beach:-

In the morning time after breakfast we will proceed for Vijaynagar Beach & Nemo Beach.

Vijaynagar Beach: -If there is a paradise on this planet, it's nowhere else than the Vijaynagar Beach or Beach #5 which is one of the less frequented areas of Andaman and Nicobar Island. Palm-fringed coastline outstretches your visual range and creates a stunning contrast of green and blue on the canvas of nature. Vijaynagar Beach is a rolling beach unlike many other rocky beaches of the Andaman Islands and is, therefore, a perfect relaxing haven for satiating nomadic hearts. It is a highly acclaimed spot to experience miraculous sunrises and sunsets across the vanishing point of the Bay of Bengal. Being a virgin beach, you can only find a few backpackers getting tanned in the sun or indulging in water sports. Under the green canopy of palm and coconut trees, it's a heavenly retreat to take a nap or read or favourite novel.

Vijaynagar Beach is a destination for adventure buffs and naturalists as it retains a pristine charm being less crowded by common tourists. Some of the common activities you can indulge yourself in are beach hiking, snorkelling, swimming, bird watching, wildlife photography, fishing and trekking.

Nemo Beach: This beach in Havelock is a serene and lonely beach perfect for long strolls, especially during low tide when you can wade through the water among the corals and spot a variety of marine life. The beach is open for the tourists the whole day although it is good to enjoy in the early morning and in the evening. It's not the good idea to venture here in noon, as it will be very hot here and you can even get sunburn. The tropical climate can be harsh in the middle of the day. One must skip going to this beach in the afternoon as the activities do close by mid-day and the climate is also hot. Scuba diving in Nemo reef is the most sought-after activity in this beach. You can also try snorkeling or swimming on your own. It is advisable to venture in the sea only under the supervision of an authorized guide or a scuba diver. Tender coconuts are sold near the resting hut. It is the best drink to keep yourself hydrated. There is also a small tea stall and a fruit chat vendor in the morning hours. One should not miss the underwater coral life and fish life; one can get to see these by either snorkeling or Scuba diving (on additional cost). Scuba Diving is recommended the most. This place is ideal for families and honeymooners.

Then we will return back to Hotel & Overnight Stay at Havelock.
